Mimi the Angel™ Gets Her Wings

By Sylvie Brûlé and Jennifer Clark
Illustrations By Julie Bonhomme

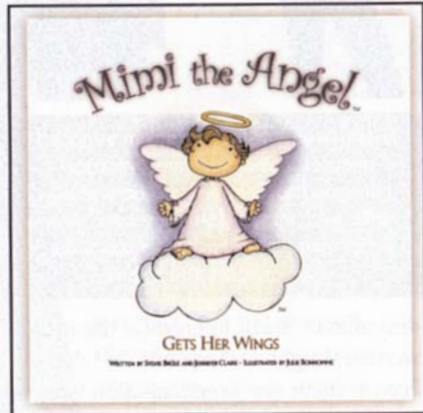

Do you believe in angels?

This sweet children's book about angels is written by first time local authors Sylvie Brûlé and Jennifer Clark. Hoping to inspire and teach young children about angels, they have written a simple children's story about an angel named Mimi who successfully gets her wings and helps the children of Earth.

Illustrations are by local award-winning artist Julie Bonhomme and capture the magic and whimsy of angels and show how angels help on Earth.

This is a first in a series of books that will teach children about spirituality, love, hope, faith and goodness. The authors wanted to give children a space to validate their own divine natures and ability to intuitively connect to their own angels. The authors believe everyone has two Guardian Angels watching over them, guiding them and protecting them. Both women are Angel Therapy™ Practitioners personally trained by Dr. Doreen Virtue PhD and Integrated Energy Therapy™ Master-Instructors in Ottawa who work with children to spiritually uncover their soul gifts and energetic abilities.

A book launch geared for children and families will be held in November 2005 at the Pinecrest Chapters location in Ottawa and they invite both young and old to join them in this celebration of angels. For more information, visit www.mimitheangel.ca A heavenly de-light!
